Item 4 – Advisory Business Introduction

Our Advisory Business

DeWitt & Dunn Financial Services LLC (“DeWitt & Dunn”) was founded in 2020 by Cathy DeWitt Dunn who serves as Owner and Founder. Cathy DeWitt Dunn is a licensed insurance agent who provides insurance services only. She does not provide advisory services. The Adviser provides advisory services through our Investment Adviser Representatives who are appropriately licensed, qualified, and registered.

Services

We are a boutique investment management firm providing investment management services to individuals, high net worth individuals, trusts, estates, corporations, and small businesses. We tailor our advisory services to the individual needs of our clients based on information provided to us by our clients regarding their financial needs and objectives. Clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities.

Sub-Advisory Services

We have entered into a sub-advisory relationship with Brookstone Capital Management, LLC (“Brookstone”), Retirement Guys Formula, LLC (“Retirement Guys”), and Impact Partnership Wealth, LLC (“Impact Wealth Partnership”) as a Subadvisor (“Independent Managers”) to manage client assets based on style or asset classes suitable for a client’s investment objectives. These arrangements allow us to access model portfolios, model managers, strategists, third party money managers, and trading services. The strategies are primarily comprised of individual equity securities, various mutual funds, Structured Notes or exchange traded funds. As part of the program, you will give us and the Independent Manager discretion to select third party, non-affiliated investment managers to design and manage model portfolios for your assets. We may also recommend Structured Notes, which are offered through Impact Partnership Wealth, LLC.

The client provides DeWitt & Dunn with the information set forth on the client profile and represents that such information is a complete and accurate representation of the client's financial position and investment needs, goals, and objectives, as well as any reasonable restrictions placed on investments made in the account at the time the client enters the advisory program offered through the Independent Manager. The client must promptly inform us in writing if any financial information becomes incomplete or inaccurate during the term of the relationship. The Independent Manager manages portfolios based on a client’s investment objectives.

The client will also sign an Investment Advisory agreement with the Independent Manager, and we will provide the client with a copy of their current disclosure brochure.

Clients are advised that there are other management programs not recommended by our firm that are suitable for the client and that can be more or less costly than arrangements recommended by our firm. No guarantees can be made that a client’s financial goals or objectives will be achieved by a third-party investment adviser recommended by our firm. Further, no guarantees of performance can ever be offered by our firm.

Co-advisory services

We have entered into a co-advisory relationship with Beacon Capital Management, Inc. (“Beacon”). As part of this relationship, Beacon shall develop model portfolios comprising a diverse group of ETFs and mutual funds. Beacon shall manage the client’s account based on the investment objectives, constraints and philosophy of the model selected by the Client.

DeWitt & Dunn shall assist you with understanding the services and strategies provided by beacon and assist you with determining which, if any, model is best suited for your individual needs and circumstances. We will also monitor your account and keep the asset manager informed of any changes that need to be made based upon your changing circumstances.

You will need to provide Dewitt & Dunn with the information set forth on the client profile and represent that such information is a complete and accurate representation of your financial position and investment needs, goals, and objectives, as well as any reasonable restrictions placed on investments made in the account at the time you enter the co-advisory program. You must promptly inform us in writing if any financial information becomes incomplete or inaccurate during the term of the relationship. The Independent Manager manages portfolios based on a client’s investment objectives.

The client will sign an Investment Management Agreement which shall establish the relationship between you, DeWitt & Dunn, and Beacon. We will provide the client with a copy of Beacon’s current disclosure brochures, including their firm brochure, wrap fee brochure, Form CRS, and privacy policy statement.

Clients are advised that there are other management programs not recommended by our firm that are suitable for the client and that can be more or less costly than arrangements recommended by our firm. No guarantees can be made that a client’s financial goals or objectives will be achieved by a third-party investment adviser recommended by our firm. Further, no guarantees of performance can ever be offered by our firm.

Assets Under Management

As of the most recent calculation on December 31, 2023, we had $7,392,170 in discretionary assets under management.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Asset Management Fee Schedule

Clients managed by Brookstone

The minimum account opening balance is $25,000, which may be negotiable based upon certain circumstances and at the Adviser’s discretion. The fee charged is based upon the amount of money invested. Multiple accounts of immediately-related family members, at the same mailing address, may be considered one consolidated account for billing purposes. Fees are charged monthly, in arrears. Payments are due and will be assessed on the last day of each month, based on the monthly ending balance of the account(s) under management for the preceding month. The Adviser will pro rate for deposits and withdrawals in the account during the billing period. Our annual fee is up to 1.5% and is negotiable. Clients managed by Brookstone will receive a fee separate from, and in addition to, the 1.5% negotiated fee paid to Dewitt & Dunn. This fee may be up to a maximum of 0.75%, giving you a total maximum advisory fee of 2.25%. The annual fee will be specified in your investment advisory agreement with us. No increase in the annual fee shall be effective without prior written notification. We believe the advisory fee is reasonable considering the fees charged by other investment advisers offering similar services/programs.

Clients managed by Impact Partnership Wealth

The minimum account opening balance is $25,000, which may be negotiable based upon certain circumstances and at the Adviser's discretion. The fee charged is based upon the amount of money invested. Multiple accounts of immediately-related family members, at the same mailing address, may be considered one consolidated account for billing purposes. Fees are charged monthly, in arrears. Payments are due and will be assessed on the last day of each month, based on the average daily balance of the account(s) under management for the preceding month. The Adviser will pro rate for deposits and withdrawals in the account during the billing period. Your total annual fee is up to 2.0% and is negotiable. This shall consist of a negotiable fee of up to 1.5% for Dewitt & Dunn and a management fee for Impact Partners which shall be 0.5%. The annual fee will be specified in your investment advisory agreement with us. No increase in the annual fee shall be effective without prior written notification. We believe the advisory fee is reasonable considering the fees charged by other investment advisers offering similar services/programs.

Clients managed by Retirement Guys

The minimum account opening balance is $25,000, which may be negotiable based upon certain circumstances and at the Adviser's discretion. The fee charged is based upon the amount of money invested. Multiple accounts of immediately-related family members, at the same mailing address, may be considered one consolidated account for billing purposes. Fees are charged monthly, in arrears. Payments are due and will be assessed on the last day of each month, based on the average daily balance of the account(s) under management for the preceding month. The Adviser will pro rate for deposits and withdrawals in the account during the billing period. Your annual fee is up to 1.8% and is negotiable. This shall consist of a negotiable fee of up to 1.5% for Dewitt & Dunn and a management fee for Retirement Guys which shall be 0.3%. The annual fee will be specified in your investment advisory agreement with us. No increase in the annual fee shall be effective without prior written notification. We believe the advisory fee is reasonable considering the fees charged by other investment advisers offering similar services/programs.

Clients co-managed by Beacon

The minimum account opening balance is $25,000, which may be negotiable based upon certain circumstances and at the Adviser's discretion. The fee charged is based upon the amount of money invested. Multiple accounts of immediately-related family members, at the same mailing address, may be considered one consolidated account for billing purposes. Fees are charged monthly, in arrears. Payments are due and will be assessed on the last day of each month, based on the average daily balance of the account(s) under management for the preceding month. The Adviser will pro rate for deposits and withdrawals in the account during the billing period. Calculation of the account fee begins upon Account funding and shall be based on Account values as determined by independent pricing services where available or otherwise in good faith. Your negotiable annual fee to DeWitt & Dunn shall be up to 1.5% of Assets Under Management. Your fee to Beacon shall be separate from, and in addition to, your fee to DeWitt & Dunn. Your annual fee to Beacon shall be the greater of either $400 or the amount specified in the following table. This means that any client whose average daily balance for all accounts is less than $72,728 shall be charged in excess of the 0.55% stated below. However, in no event shall your total advisory fee, which shall be the aggregate of the fee to Beacon and the fee to DeWitt & Dunn, exceed 2.99%.

Beacon Fee Schedule*
Clients with up to $499,999.99	0.55%
Between $500,000 and $999,999.99	0.35%
$1,000,000 or over	0.15%

* All fees to Beacon are subject to a $400 minimum annual fee per household.

Other Fees

You will incur additional charges including but not limited to, brokerage and other transaction costs, mutual fund sales loads, 12b-1 fees and surrender charges and IRA and qualified retirement plan fees. We do not receive any portion of such commissions or fees. We are only compensated by the fees described above, and do not receive any other compensation in connection with your account. Please refer to "Item 12- Brokerage Practices" for additional information. When we negotiate lower fees and expenses charged by third parties, all negotiated improvements are for your benefit.

Our representatives have a conflict of interest by only offering these sub-advisory fees since they have agreed to pay us a portion of their advisory fee. There are other managed programs that may be suitable to you and that can be more or less costly. No guarantees can be made that your financial goals or objectives will be achieved. Further, no guarantees of performance can be offered. Investments involve risk, including the possible loss of principal.

If you are unwilling to have your personal and/or financial information provided to the sub-advisor in order to receive advisory services, then we are unable to assist you with your advisory needs and any advisory relationship is terminated.

Other Compensation

Our representatives may recommend and sell life and long-term care insurance and will receive the usual and customary commissions in addition to any agreed upon advisory fee.

While Lora endeavors at all times to put the interest of our clients first as part of our fiduciary duty, the possibility of receiving additional compensation creates a conflict of interest and may affect her judgment when making recommendations. We require this be disclosed when such recommendations are made.

Also, we require disclosure to Clients that they may purchase recommended securities from other registered representatives not affiliated with us.

Item 6 – Performance Based Fee and Side by Side Management

We do not charge any performance-based fees or perform side-by-side management.

Item 7 – Types of Client(s)

Our clients may include individuals, high net worth individuals, trusts, estates, corporations, and small businesses.

We generally impose a minimum account size of $25,000, although we may accept accounts with fewer assets at our discretion.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of analysis and investment strategies used to manage your accounts are determined and implemented by Brookstone, Impact Partnership Wealth, Retirement Guys and Beacon. However, we are available to help explain such strategies and may offer analysis of specific investments and securities held in your account.

Past performance is not indicative of future results. Therefore, you should never assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable. Investing in securities (including stocks, mutual funds, and bonds, etc.) involves risk of loss. Further, depending on the different types of investments there may be varying degrees of risk. You should be prepared to bear investment loss including loss of original principal.

Because of the inherent risk of loss associated with investing, our firm is unable to represent, guarantee, or even imply that services and methods of analysis used by third-party money managers we recommend can or will predict future results, successfully identify market tops or bottoms, or insulate you from losses due to market corrections or declines.

Structured Notes are hybrid securities issued as debt instruments, designed to be held until their maturity, selling the note back to the issuer may result in loss relative to your principal. While a summary of some, but not all, risks related to structured notes generally are provided below, you should review each notes offering documents for a detailed explanation of the potential risks.

Risks related to structured notes

Maximum return features

A structured product may contain a feature that caps the return that you can receive at maturity. If the return of the underlying asset at maturity exceeds the maximum return of the structured product, the investment may underperform a direct investment in the underlying asset. Before investing in a structured product with a maximum return, you should consider this risk of underperformance.

Market risk reduction features

A structured product may contain a feature to reduce the downside market exposure to the underlying asset. Because the returns on structured products are tied to the performance of the underlying asset, the principal amount of some structured products may be exposed to downside market risk. In this respect, structured products may differ from ordinary fixed-income debt instruments. In order to reduce this downside market exposure, structured products may include features that provide for the issuer to pay you back, at maturity, some or all of your principal even if the underlying asset declines in value.

In addition, any market risk reduction feature only applies at maturity. If you are able to sell your structured product in the secondary market prior to maturity, you may have to sell it at a loss relative to your initial investment, even if your investment would not have resulted in a loss at maturity.

A structured product with more favorable terms than an otherwise comparable structured product, such as a relatively greater market risk reduction feature, does not necessarily indicate that the structured product with more favorable terms is less risky or that it has a greater likelihood of a return of principal at maturity.

Please note that certain structured products may not have a market risk reduction feature, in which case your principal is exposed to any decline in the value of the underlying asset. As previously noted, before investing in a structured product, you should carefully consider and understand the level of downside market exposure, if any, as well as the credit quality of the issuer.

Call Features

A structured product may contain a call feature that can result in the investment being redeemed earlier than the stated maturity date. Different types of call features may be exercised at the sole discretion of the issuer (issuer callable) or may be exercised automatically (autocallable) if a specified, predetermined condition occurs.

If a structured product is called prior to maturity, the payment you receive will depend upon the stated terms of the investment. If a structured product is called, you may not be able to reinvest the proceeds of the investment in a similar investment with similar risk and return characteristics. You should carefully evaluate this reinvestment risk before you make an investment in a structured product with a call feature.

A structured product that is issuer-callable is more likely to be called at a time when the expected amount payable on the investment at maturity and/or at time of call is greater than the amount payable on a comparable instrument at that time.

A structured product with an auto-call feature is typically called if, on specified observation dates, the underlying asset is the same price as or has appreciated from its trade date closing price. For these types of autocallable investments, the longer they remain outstanding, the less likely it is that they will be automatically called. This is because if the investment is still outstanding, the underlying asset was below its trade date price as of the last observation date and there would be less time remaining to maturity for the underlying asset to recover to or above its trade date price.

Income Features

A structured product may pay fixed, contingent or variable interest, or may not pay any interest at all over its term.

If a structured product has a lower stated interest rate than that of a traditional fixed-rate bond, it is generally because that interest rate supplements a potential market-linked payment at maturity. If the structured product has a higher stated interest rate than that of a traditional fixed-rate bond, the investment will usually have some downside market exposure and/or the payment of interest may depend on a specified market condition.

If a structured product pays contingent or variable interest, you may not receive any interest over the term of the investment.

In general, the higher the interest rate for a structured product as compared to the yield payable on the issuer's traditional fixed-rate bond with a similar maturity, the greater the risk of missing any contingent or variable-rate interest payments that may apply, of receiving no market-linked return at maturity and/or of incurring a loss at maturity, depending on the terms of the investment.

Before investing in a structured product, you should fully understand whether or not the investment pays interest over its term and, if there are interest payments, how the interest is calculated and under what circumstances it accrues and is paid.

Other Features

A structured product may contain a number of other features that can affect the return potential at maturity. Before investing in a structured product, you need to fully understand all of the features applicable to the investment and consider any risks associated with such features. For more information, please review the specific offering documents for a description of any maximum return, market risk reduction, call or other features as well as a description of any potential interest payments.

Lack of Liquidity

Structured products are generally not designed to be actively traded. You should be prepared to hold your structured products to maturity. Unless the relevant offering documents specifically state otherwise, structured products are not listed on any exchange—meaning they are not readily tradable. Typically, if there is any liquidity available for a structured product, it is provided by the issuer of the investment as a service to investors. The issuer is not, however, obligated to provide a liquid secondary market, and you may not be able to sell your investment. If an issuer is making a secondary market for its structured product, it may charge a fee for doing so.

Early Termination

In addition to any call feature, a structured product may also contain other provisions described in the offering documents that allow the issuer to terminate the investment early under specified circumstances. The payout upon such an early termination event may be lower than the payout at maturity would have been.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Selection of Other Advisers

DeWitt & Dunn will be compensated by the third-party manager(s) from the advisory fees collected from the client. Details of these fees are/will be described in Item 5 – Fees and Compensation. Fees are determined by your relationship with the third-party manager. This causes a conflict of interest in recommending certain third-party managers since we may receive compensation for referring clients to certain vendors over others. In order to mitigate this conflict of interest, we require all IARs to inform the client that they are under no obligation to implement any recommendations made by us or the third-party manager.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Accounts and Personal Trading

We have adopted a Code of Ethics for all IAR's of the firm describing its high standards of business conduct, and fiduciary duty to you, our client. The Code of Ethics includes provisions relating to the confidentiality of client information, a prohibition on insider trading, a prohibition of rumor mongering, restrictions on the acceptance of significant gifts, the reporting of certain gifts and business entertainment items, and personal securities trading procedures. We may receive economic benefit from someone who is not a client for providing investment advice or other advisory services to our clients. We will be compensated by the third-party manager(s) from the advisory fees collected from the client. This may cause a conflict of interest in recommending certain third-party managers since we may receive compensation for referring clients to these vendors. In order to mitigate this conflict of interest, we require all IARs to inform the client that they are under no obligation to implement any recommendations made by us or the sub-advisor.
